ABOUT ME

I'm Aayush Patel, a computer science major at James Madison University with a minor in Economics, merging technical skills with a broader perspective on technology's impact. I'm interested by the possibilities within artificial intelligence and am eager to dive deeper into the field. Beyond academics, I play soccer and tennis, enjoying the discipline and critical thinking they bring. Growing up in Roanoke, Virginia, I've spent uncountable hours hiking in the Blue Ridge Mountains, learning resilience and adaptability—qualities I apply to every project I tackle.

SKILLS:

Python, Java, html, css, JavaScript, social media marketing and presentations.
